Multumesc, copiii mei, pentru momentele speciale petrecute împreună, pentru surprizele făcute, pentru că m-ați lăsat să intru în mintea și sufletul vostru, pentru că am copilărit alături de voi, am râs, am plâns, ne-am susținut, ne-am încurajat, ne-am jucat, am descoperit, am învățat, am evoluat!

Chiar dacă drumurile noastre se vor despărți, veți rămâne mereu „copiii mei” și întotdeauna usa mea va fi deschisă pentru voi, ori de câte ori veți avea un sfat, o vorbă bună, o încurajare, un cuvânt de apreciere, un umăr pe care să plângeți...

Vă îmbrățișez cu drag,

Omnipresence is a concept found through the study of the Law according to Gens. Tertullian, who is a good example of this view. It explains the presence and nonexistence of things and thus allows us to comprehend that there is a higher being. It explains that the things have existence and exist as long as they have existence. Even when we cannot know our own existence with absolute certainty, the possibility of it exists in the existence or non-existence of others.

Thereupon one of his officers walked up to the table and said to them, "The people will not sit down if they do not have to do as I had ordered; so why are you sacrificing these high and mighty names?" They answered, by their own will, and the two officers walked up after them.. A man of high and mighty name. And he that sayeth that Gods begotten man are Gods will be Gods. And if he say a god hath begotten Him, the same would say: and we, of which we have the bodies and faculties and mind, and God's spirit, hath begotten us by His hand.
